These sectors are visible in the Airspace Control Plan (ACP). Operations are to be conducted in both Sectors NORTH and SOUTH, in addition to AO operations in support of the destruction of targets from the JPTL. Operations are to be supported by friend AWACS and Tanker support
Focus of effort by objective	Three areas of focus are addressed in this AOD: Sector NORTH In this sector, the majority of effort should be directed towards LCC IV Corps Objective BRAVO and the attrition of HQ assets in and around HATAY AIRFIELD and the area surrounding HATAY city. Some focus should be directed towards LCC IV CORPS Objective ALPHA and the attrition of enemy ground forces, prioritising air defence assets, followed by the division of MBTs therein. Sector SOUTH Equal effort should be directed towards the attrition of LCC III Corps Objectives ALPHA and BRAVO.

Acceptable level of risk. (including for AWACS and tankers: forward or rear)	Tolerance of risk should be minimal in the execution of these missions – ground forces are currently not engaged in conflict and there should be no desire to unnecessarily persecute enemy forces in the execution of these missions.

Civilian casualties should be avoided at all costs. Suspected civilian casualties should be reported through the C2 network as soon as is practicable.
TST guidance	Should opportunities present, items from the TST matrix should be prosecuted. The outcome should be reported to the relevant C2 agency.
Intelligence, Surveillance, Reconnaissance (ISR) – If any effort should be done to support VIS with ISR to answer information gaps from VIS.	All notifications of enemy air defence assets – ground- and air-based – must be reported as soon as is practicable. Reports should, where possible, include the observing aircraft's currently position, a relative bearing to the threat and the type of threat. No specific ISR tasking are planned for this mission.
