2.1.1 Russian activity in the Eastern Mediterranean (EMED)

Russian activity in the EMED have continued as normal since D+1. One AWACS have been operating NORTH of EGYPT. 2x TU-22's have been reported flying show of prescence/show of force missions over the ocean. 1x TU-142 is reported flying anti submarine missions looking for allied submarines. 1x SU-24 have been flying intelligence collection flights along the coast in international waters.

2.1.2 Russian concern about security at Bassel Al Assad Airfield

Intercepts of Russian traffic indicate concern among high ranking officers about the security and vulnerability of Bassel Al Assad airfield. After recent allied operations, Russian forces are fearing allied attack on the airfield, and being forced to defend themselves. Russian officers are observer at others Syrian airfields in the last week.

ASSESSMENT: It is even chance that Russia is considering to relocate assets from Bassel Al Assad Airfield. A move of Russian assets away from Bassel Al Assad Airfield is a indicator of stronger Russian involvement in the conflict, as a move away from Bassel Al Assad Airfield is assessed to be a way to secure own assets.
