- AXE reports H#11 as two SA-19s on RWR
 - Heading 200 from own position
 - Somewhere south in the depicted cone
- KNIFE reports H#54 as at least two SA-19s on RWR in the north-eastern direction

AXE also reported H#10 as a Shilka bearing 180 from own position at the time.

Reported enemy assets should be found along the lines and within the cones based on reported direction from the flights and known radar specifications for the SA-19 and ZSU-23-4.

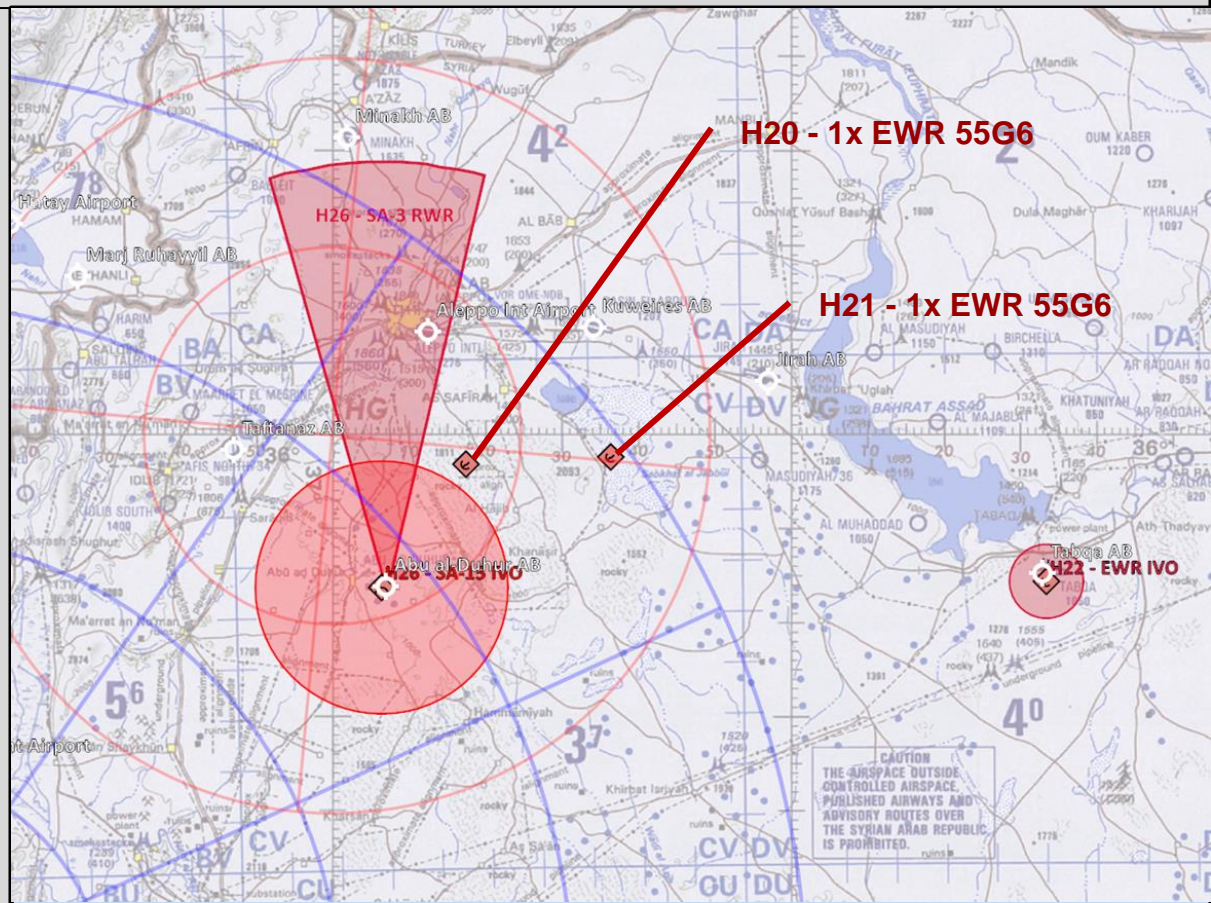

SUMMARY OF ENEMY SITUATION

CHEVY 6 has found multiple EWR close to Abu al-Duhur Airbase:

- H22 identified as an EWR 55G6 somewhere within 4 NM of the reported coordinates.
- H20 and H21 as two EWR 55G6 located within 1 NM of their reported coordinates

H26 has been identified as an SA-15 and an SA-2 somewhere IVO Abu al-Duhur Airbase. Spikes from an SA-3 has been reported somewhere north of the Abu al-Duhur - presumably somewhere in the cone based on directions reported by the flight and radar specifications for the SA-3.

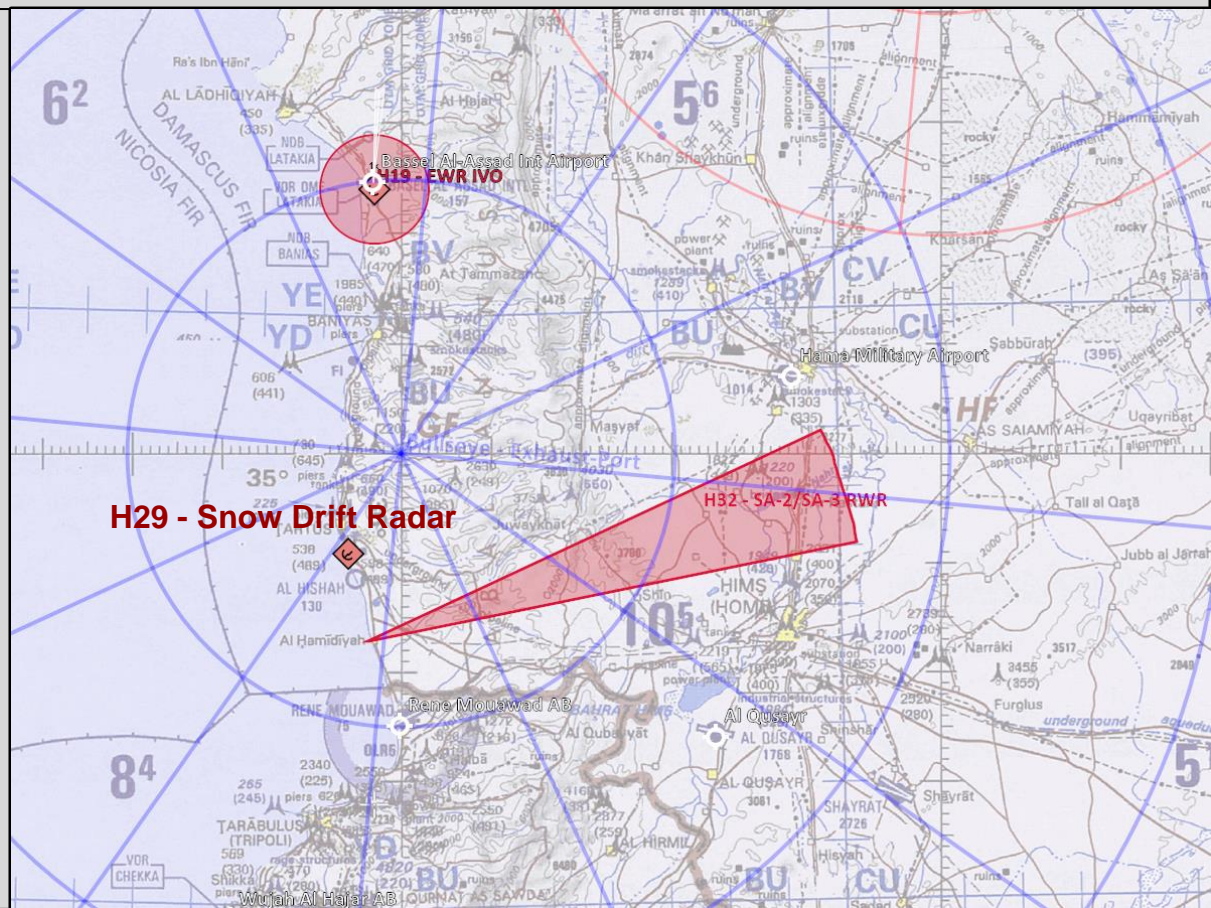

SUMMARY OF ENEMY SITUATION

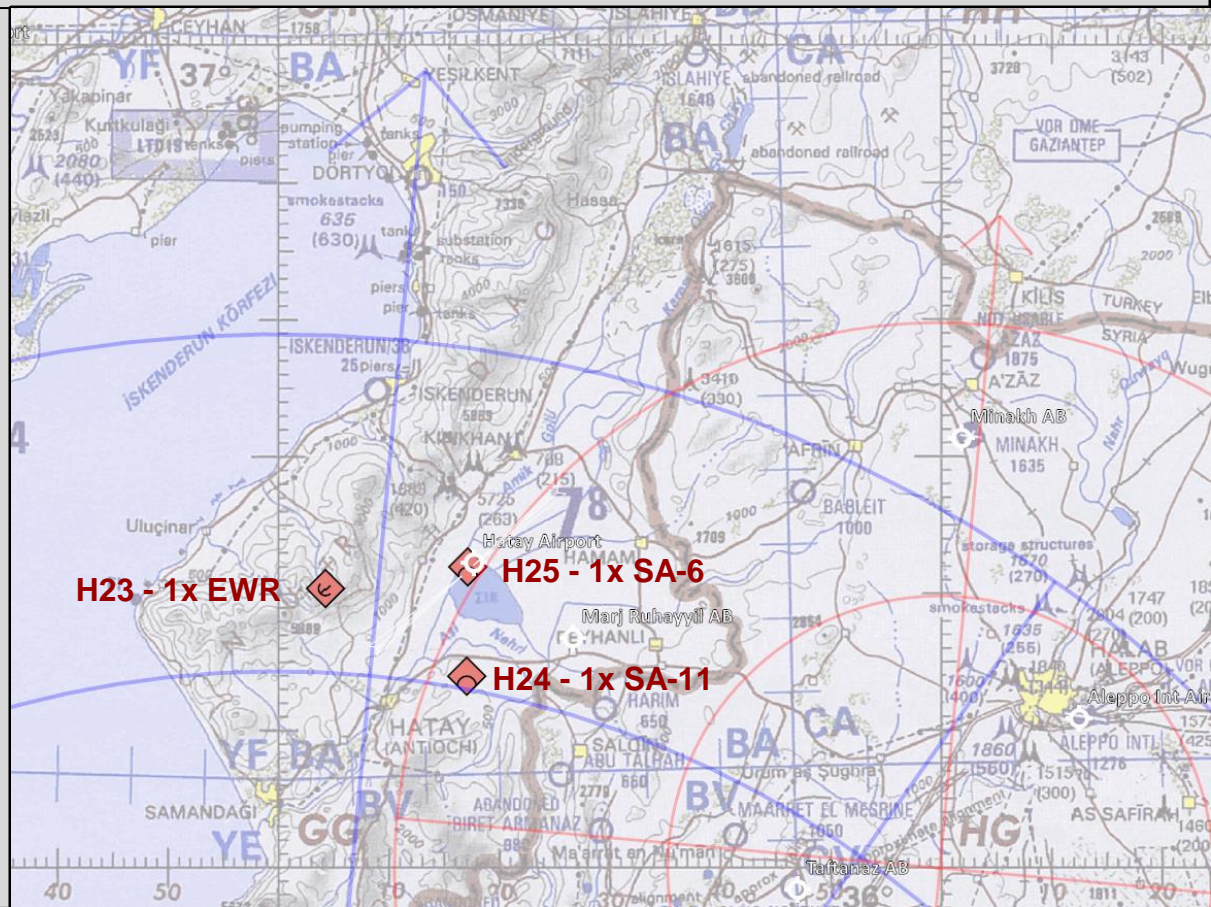

CHEVY 6 identifies an additional EWR 55G6 as H#19 on the coast close to Bassad Al-Assad Intl. Airport. H#19 is IVO the reported coordinates by 5 NM.

A possible snow drift radar has been found by DODGE 7 close to the SA-11 site destroyed by NAVY 1. Additionally, NAVY 1 got spiked by an SA-2 or SA-3 site further south, referenced as H#32. The possible area of H#32 is based on reported position and heading of the spike by NAVY, and the effective radar range of an SA-2.

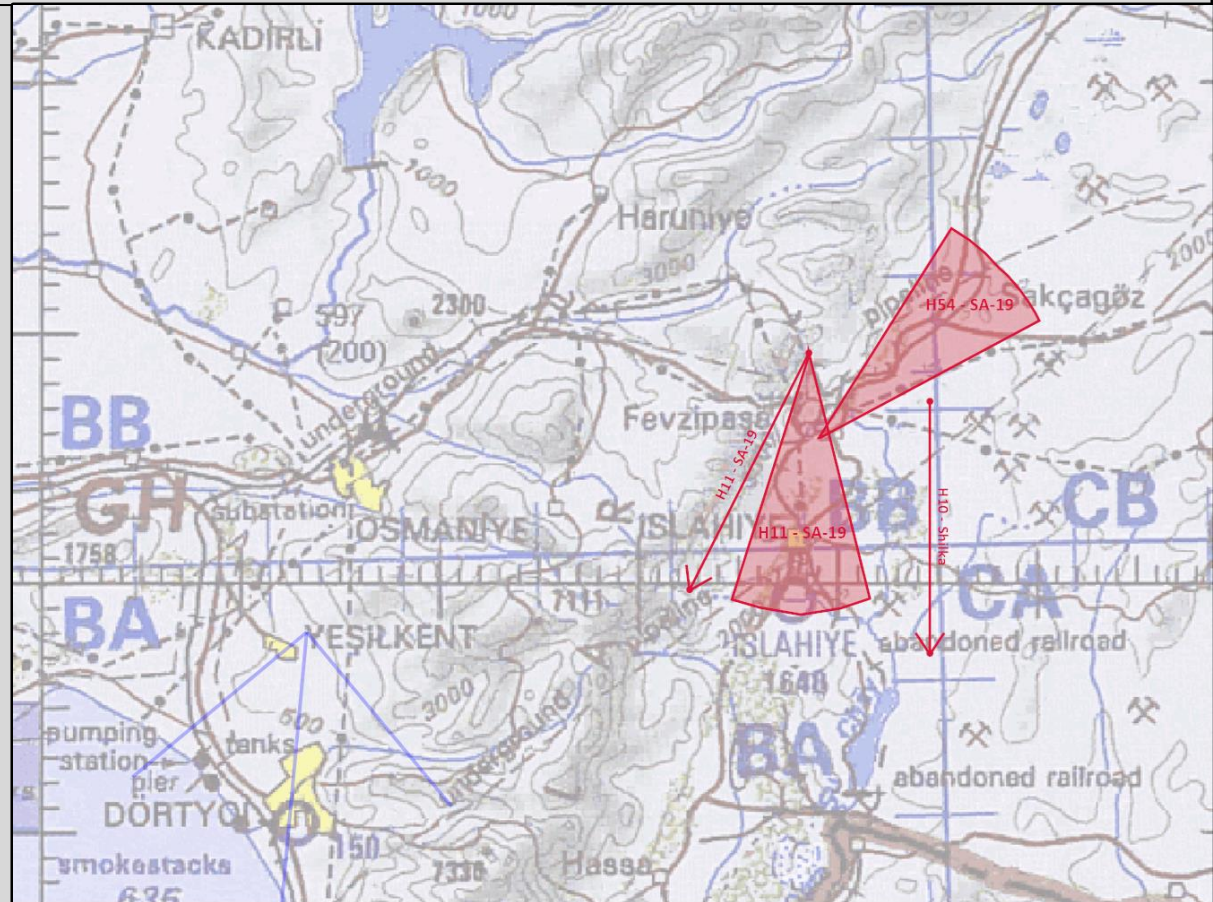

SUMMARY OF ENEMY SITUATION

The following three targets, H#23, H#24 and H#25 has been reported in prior intelligence products, but CHEVY 6 reports none were detected at these locations during their sortie. CHEVY 6 made low passes at each of these locations.

INTELLIGENCE GAPS

It is unclear whether or not there are four SA-19s at the Turkish border. Times for when the SA-19s were spotted would help to determine this.

INTELLIGENCE GAPS

There's mixed signals coming for the reports on H44 and H45. Darkstar reports these as destroyed while JEDI is not sure if these have been destroyed.
